

Prayer of Transformation

Father, forgive me for being a nominal Christian. I repent of having spent so much time in the pew and not seeking your perfect will for my destiny in building Your kingdom. I ask that you will reveal your plans to me and that I will be courageous to do your will.

Lord, I seek everyday for you to reveal an opportunity for me to ride a new wave. I desire to come into your house to praise your name and worship you. I also pray that I will develop a conscience and a passion for the lost and that as I leave your sanctuary I will seek to do your will.

Now Lord, use this vessel for your honor and glory. Reveal to me what you are doing in the heavenlies, so I can do likewise in the earth. Let me today and everyday be led by your Spirit to the person or persons that I am to minister to. Mature me in your word so I can have a well balanced Christian walk each day.

Now Lord, I surrender, my life, thoughts, will, gifts and talents, skills, finances, home, family, job, and all I possess to your plan for my destiny and transformation.

Amen!

Remember, the devil will place stumbling blocks in your path. Don't go from sitting in the pew to overloading yourself with works. Let God lead you and you will soon find that with His guidance you will develop a well-balanced Christian life. As humans we can get into the trap of going from one bad habit to another. Don't tell God what you plan to do for Him, let Him tell you what He wants you to do for Him. He will put His works in your path.

Spend time praying God's will and studying His word so you can learn to recognize when it is He who is speaking to you. In other words, prepare yourself for activation into His service. The suggested waves will grow your passion for the lost and prepare you for transformation into His destiny for you. Be blessed and God speed.
